

100+ Santa Sightings all over the World on iSpotSanta Website 'I Spot Santa' Website Posts Sightings All December

Santa Claus is being tracked and caught on film with the family friendly website iSpotSanta.com starting December 1st and going all the way to Christmas Day. You can only find these Santa videos, pictures and more with the "25 Days of Santa" from the entertainment site iSpotSanta.com. Watch as his merry reindeer fly him to every continent in 2015, including visits to the most famous places on Planet Earth.

THIS YEAR'S SPECIAL ATTRACTION: Six time Emmy winner, comedian/actor Tim Conway appears in comedy sketches as "Dorf" the elf helping Santa Claus in his workshop and causing havoc and keeping off the "Naughty" list (he admits to some mistakes). Tim's hilarious work on "The Carol Burnett Show" and "Dorf on Golf" videos are rekindled this Christmas season.

PLUS, You'll enjoy new comedy sketches featuring Internet sensations Chip & Bernie and Puppets from the North Pole Newsroom as they spot Santa Claus in comedy sketches that children of all ages enjoy.

"On every continent we have Santa spotters with their cameras pointed to the sky and for the first 25 days of December we are uploading new Santa Claus sighting videos, a new one each day," said Pasquale Murena, creator of the site and president of Murena Films, a producer and distributor of original media entertainment.

"Then, on Christmas Eve, site visitors can track Santa live as he flies all over the world with our 'iSpotSanta Video Tracker.' There will be updates every 15 minutes on iSpotSanta's Twitter and Facebook with his location," he said.

“I sit with my granddaughters every Christmas Eve and we watch each Santa sighting as iSpotSanta tracks him,” said Conway. “It’s a great way to spend time with the family and rekindle that Christmas feeling we had as kids.”

Site visitors will see Santa at the North Pole, France, Germany, Rome, New York, England, Australia, Japan, Yosemite, Grand Canyon, the Pyramids in Egypt and many more. “You are never too old to believe in Santa and the Spirit of Christmas,” Murena said with a twinkle in his eye.

“Christmas is filled with family traditions and iSpotSanta is quickly becoming one of those traditions,” said Murena.
