

Indoor Snowfall Launcher

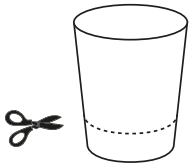

Chip and Bernie have noticed that there isn't much snow around in the house! So, Chip has come up with a clever plan to bring the joy of snowfall indoors without making a wet mess. Get ready for some wintery fun with this "Indoor Snowfall Launcher" activity!

Materials:

- 1 plastic cup
- 1 Balloon

Craft supplies to decorate
Paper sheets or cotton balls

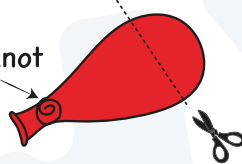

Step 1:

Cut off the bottom of a plastic cup.

Warning, sharp edges!

Ask an adult to apply tape around cut edges for safer handling.

Tie a knot

Step 2: Creating the snow launcher

Take a balloon and tie a knot at one end. Cut off the other end of the balloon. Stretch the open end of the balloon over the wide end of the cup.

Step 3: Now, it's time to get creative!

Use craft supplies such as cotton balls, paint, googly eyes, pompoms, and more to decorate the balloon as a snowman. Give your snowman a face and even a scarf.

Step 4: Creating the snow

Cut up small pieces of paper or place extra cotton balls in the cup.

You can even fill the cup with sprinkles and decorate cookies with it, like Chip and Bernie do!

Pull back on the tied end of the balloon to launch the snow and make it snow indoors!

To see the largest collection of Santa sightings around the world visit

ISpotSanta.com